ARE YOU PREPARED?

Natural disasters such as flood, fire, earthquake, tornado, and windstorm affect thousands of people every year. You should know what your risks are and prepare to protect yourself, your family, and community. Here are some basic tips and guidelines:

- Know your building's emergency plan.
- Know the evacuation assembly areas for your residence and classroom buildings. www.ehs.uci.edu/em/zonemap.html
- Identify two alternate ways to exit your room or apartment building.
- Locate the fire extinguishers and learn how to use them.
- Develop an emergency communications plan in case family members are separated.
- Have a communication plan with your family; know how to reach them.
- Enter your 'In Case of Emergency' (ICE) into your cell phone so emergency workers know who to contact in the event you're injured. (i.e. ICE-Mom (949) 824-5223)

Earthquake 1→2→3

Whether in your home, a classroom, or a tall building, knowing how to protect yourself during an earthquake can save your life.

The Drop, Cover, and Hold method has been proven to reduce earthquake related injuries and death. Additionally, ensuring items around you home are securely fastened can also reduce chances of injury.

- ▶ Ensure mirrors and framed pictures are fastened to walls away from beds, couches, and anywhere people sit.
- ▶ Secure bookshelves, cabinets, TVs, and computers with earthquake fasteners.
- ▶ Do not stack bookcases or file cabinets.
- ▶ Fasten shelves securely to walls.
- ▶ Place large, heavy objects on lower shelves.
- ▶ Brace overhead light fixtures and top heavy objects.
- ▶ Store breakable items such as bottle foods, glass, and china in locked cabinets.
- ▶ Repair any deep cracks in ceilings.

After an Earthquake

Here are general guidelines on what to do after an earthquake. But remember, aftershocks may still occur, so be prepared to Drop, Cover, and Hold.

- When the shaking stops, look around to make sure it's safe to move, then exit the building.
- Help injured or trapped persons.
- Look for and extinguish small fires. Fire is the most common hazard after a quake.
- Listen to a battery-operated radio or television for the latest emergency information.
